A SOCIAL WAR.

For many years Indianapolis society has been disturbed by the rivalries of factions led respectively by Mrs. Hendricks and Mrs. Mc-Donald. Each have had a strong body of ad- dom from oxidization. This metal was selectquite bitter. Mrs. Hendricks has had the ad- | bight of 555 feet, because, next to silver, it is vantage of superior wealth and the superior | the best known conductor of electricity, and political successes of her husband, with a good | because, owing to its freedom from oxidization, deal of assumed superiority of ancestry. On the other hand, ex-Senator McDonald is generally considered abler, and is certainly more popular than ex-Gov. Hendricks, and his wife is much the more brilliant and attractive of the two ladies. It is popularly believed that Mrs. Hendricks's influence has prevented Gov. | rebellion entered the service as Captain in the Hendricks from giving way two or three times | 7th Me., in which he was successively promoted and permitting Mr. McDonald to come to the | to Colonel, and was brevetted Brigadier-Genfront, where it was the strong desire of the eral for gallantry in action. Hendricks declined all hints of the desirabilty of his getting out of the way and permitting Mr. McDonald to be presented as a candidate.

It is believed now that this warfare will extend itself to Washington. Hendricks is a cold, rather dull, and very grasping man, who reaches for all that is in sight. He has an exaggerated idea of his own importance, and believes that it is his persodality rather than Cleveland's that carried the ticket through, in consequence of which he is going to assert himself. He manifested this disposition when he was on the ticket with Tilden in 1876, but he found that he could not play that game with the strong-willed old Sage of Grammercy Park, who, it is said, informed him very curtly that he must either get on the platform or get off the car. Mr. Hendricks, undoubtedly, will not be content to play the insignificant part which is alloted to Vice-Presidents, but will attempt to afresh in a dispute between Gen. Sheridan and Of course, Mrs. Hendricks shares very strongly in this ambition, and since Cleveland has no | tain amount of friction. This seems to be inwife, she has strong aspirations for the position of first lady in the land, but the Mordecai at her gate is the rumor of a great probability | Each has always claimed to outrank the other, that President-elect Cleveland will call Mr. McDonald into his Cabinet. This will make Mrs. McDonald's social status quite equal to that of Mrs. Hendricks, and as Mr. Cleveland in all probability will be President in all that the name implies, his Cabinet Ministers will occupy a position of a great deal more dis- War Department, and every Secretary of War tinction than the gentleman whom the law has has grumbled that the General of the Army placed in the position of his successor in the tried to make him a subordinate on his staff. event of his death or incapacity. There are now 2,800 men in the Army who have served more than 10 years, and it is felt by many that competent, deserving ones among them should be first rewarded by official favor. Among those most strongly urged by army officers and others for one of the recently existing vacancies was Serg't Brainard, whose faithful devotion to duty as a member of the ill-fated Greely expedition to the Arctic regions, wen the admiration of the world. His fitness is step-son of Attorney-General Brewster and W. favor in Army circles. Wright entered the Military Academy at West Point as a cadet in 1882. At the end of the first year he failed in his examination, and under the rules would have been discharged as deficient had he not been kindly permitted to resign. Now, by this appointment he will be the senior in rank by two years of the members of his class, who, after earning their commissions by completing the course of study, will graduate in 1886.

THE WASHINGTON "SEASON." The White House has been put in prime order for the social season. No extensive changes or repairs have been made during the past Summer. Indeed, none were necessary, as a large amount was expended a year ago in the way of carpets, frescoing, and other interior decorations. The large carpet in the historic East Room, which was taken up in the early Summer, has just been relaid. If the truth must be told it looks rather shabby, but it was thought Uncle Sam could hardly afford to get a new one this year. The White House has been thoroughly cleaned, scrubbed and dusted from attic to basement, with a few touches here and there of paint or varnish, and is ready for the reception of guests. The Win-

It is not difficult to understand why the Democrats enjoyed the festal day. They felt that they had greater reason to sing the long meter doxology than at any time in 25 years. CONGRESS BEGINS. During the past week Members of Congress and others who, from duty or inclination, spend their Winters in Washington, have been daily arriving by hundreds. The last session of the 48th Congress opened on Monday, with a very full attendance. Little was done on that day except to receive the President's annual message and the various Departmental reports. MR. CLEVELAND'S CHURCH. President-elect Cleveland's religion-be it more or less-is of the Presbyterian sort. During his residence at Albany he has attended, we are happy to know, with great regularity, a church of that denomination, and it is announced that when he comes to Washington as lessee of the White House he will take a pew in the New York Avenue Presbyterian church. The pastor of that church is his personal friend, ham Lincoln attended.

TOP OF THE MONUMENT.

The lightning-rod and terminal of the Washngton Monument, which is now on exhibition in Philadelphia, will be brought to this city in a few days. It has a perpendicular elevation of nine and a half inches, and each side of the base measures five and a half inches. Its weight is 100 ounces. The material of which it is composed is aluminium and the surface appears much whiter than silver and is so mirror. Aluminium is a white metal of comparative recent discovery, distinguished for superior lightness-its specific gravity being about one-fourth that of silver-and for free-

GEN. LOGAN'S WELCOME.

Probably no Senator on his return to Washington to commence his labors in the National Legislature has received such a hearty welcome as was accorded to Gen. Logan on Saturday evening last. The residence of Mrs. Case in Iowa Circle, where the General has taken up his abode for the Winter, was handsomely decorated, both inside and outside, with banners, flowers and Chinese lanterns, and the Marine Band, which furnished a most excellent and appropriate program, contributed much to the pleasure of the occasion. Soon after 8 o'clock in the evening the visitors, irrespective of party, began to arrive, and soon filled the spacious parlors of the house. Although no formal speeches were made, there were many expressions of hearty good will and welcome to the General and Mrs. Logan. Hon. B. F. Butterworth and Mr. E. S. Cutler introduced the guests, who numbered not less than 1,500.

THE ARMY OF OFFICEHOLDERS.

No less than 15,000 of the residents of this city are in the employ of the Government in the various branches of the civil service. This includes not only the class known as Department employees, but also the Army and Navy officers stationed here, the employees of the District Government whose compensation comes from the General Government, the employees of the Navy Yard, City Post-Office, employees of Congress and of the various courts. Of the army of employees 5,840 are unquestioned. But the President appointed a clerks drawing salaries varying from $900 to $1,800, and who come directly within the W. Wright, of New Jersey. In the following table, which shows the number of persons employed in the various grades, all employees of every character receiving annual salaries of more than $1,800 are enumerated under the heading "Above Civil Service Grade," and all receiving annual salaries less than $900 under the heading "Below Civil Service Grade." The term "Special" is applied to employees receiving salaries not more than $1,800 nor less than $900, but who are excepted from examination, such as stenographers, skilled artisans, etc., or such as telegraphers, who may be subjected to special technical examinations at the discretion of the Civil Service Commissioners. MISCELLANEOUS. Miss Andenreid, daughter of the late Col. Audenreid, will be one of the most charming debutantes Washington society will produce

The Senator's term expires on the 4th of March next, and his supporters think that as he took such an active part in the camhighly polished that it reflects as a plate-glass | paign and, as they claim, contributed in no small degree to the success of the Democratic party, he ought to be taken care of.

This is an admirable little work on "home hygiene and the art of prolonging life," by one of the ablest men in the medical profession of this country. Dr. Hamilton is Surgeon-General of the United States Marine Hospital Service, Professor of Surgery in the Medical Department of the University of Georgetown, and testimonials of his professional ability. This book is written in bright, attractive style, with pages which follow it was sought to inculcate the belief that longevity was not only possible, but in a great degree in one's own control, subject to the natural law; and this thought runs through every paragraph." The heads of the chapters are: "The Study of Hygiene," "Longevity," "Of Cooks and Cookery," "Of Food," "Of Sleeping Rooms," "Plumbing and Plumbers," "Of Funerals," "Euthanasia," "Summer Resorts," "Of Baths and Bathing," "The American Climate," "Of Epidemics," and "Moderation." Each of these chapters abound in fresh, original, and solid thinking, wellseasoned with flashes of wit that appetize the whole. We do not know where a man can get more and better for his 25 cents than in this ittle book, which has all its valuable facts so neatly and concisely put that there is no chance for any one to fail in comprehending them. Such has been the success of the book that Dr. Hamilton has been repeatedly importuned to enlarge and extend it into a more pretentious volume than the present pamphlet.

Another Case of Premonition.

To THE EDITOR: Seeing a number of interesting articles in regard to Premonitions in THE TRIBUNE, leads me to write you of one that made an indelible impression upon my own mind. It is entirely different from any I have seen. Just after the first Bull Run battle excitement ran high. I was plowing corn, and, coming to a stump, I stopped my horse and sat down to think it over. Should I enlist or not? I finally decided if mother would give her consent I would go. Then I thought it all out, and, just as I made up my mind finally, it came to me with great force that I should live to come home; that many bitter experiences were ahead, but, though I should see many fall on either side of me, I would be spared. I knelt down and committed myself to the care of the Almighty. When I arose those verses of the 91st Psalm came before my mind with a vividness I shall never forget-they were the 5th, 6th, 7th and 9th. They came to me during every engagement, and cheered me during two terrible ordeals in the prison pens of Libby, Belle Isle, Lynchburg and Danville. One comrade speaks of 50 or more shooting at him at one time. At the second battle of gun, I had to run to the woods, some distance in the rear of our skirmish-line. Whew, how ting a stone and forcing the cartridge into place, I started back. I took a look in front, left and right. I could see the Johnnies in unusually thick and close, but I arrived at my rail-pile in safety. I had many narrow escapes. I was told by the rebel guards on Belle Isle that they would have the fun of throwing me in "yonder trench" in a day or two. I told them I was a Jersey boy, and was going to live and come back and kill lots of 'em. That was in '62. In ture those very guards. TO THE EDITOR: At the time Longstreet besieged Suffolk, Va., in the Spring of 1863, among the re-enforcements sent us was a regiment of new troops from New York. They were encamped so that their right wing overlapped our left; and, like most other new regiments, they paid but little attention to the North American Review .- Contents for Decemsanitary condition of their camp. I learned her: "Labor and Capital Before the Law," that they were not attached to any brigade, and, also, that the Third Brigade, Third Division of our corps had but three regiments in it. So I told a comrade that if he would carry Ackerman; "The British House of Lords," | the order I would write one that would cause Geo. Ticknor Curtis; "Responsibility for State | them to change location. To this he consented. Roguery," John F. Hume; "Friendship in Accordingly, I wrote a special order for the -th N. ## A SURE THING.

Baldness is only incurable when the hair roots are dead and absorbed, which is a rare condition. In nearly all cases they are simply torpid, and can be stimulated to put forth a new growth of hair by the use of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, the only preparation that cures baldness and restores youthful color to gray hair.

Baldness Cured and Age Rejuvenated.

J. W. HAMMOND, Lake Preston, D.T., Mrs. O. Davenport, Williamstown, when he was but 40 years old found his Vt., became entirely bald at the age of 20 hair growing gray. At 50, his hair and and remained so 38 years, during which whiskers were entirely white. So they continued until he reached 60 years of age, out success. Eventually she used AYER'S when he began using AYER'S HAIR HAIR VIGOR, four bottles of which cov-VIGOR, three bottles of which sufficed to ered her head with a fine growth of silky restore their original rich, dark brown brown hair, twelve inches long.

Y., bad become nearly bald, and its failing out, when she applied AYER'S though she made use of many of the so- HAIR VIGOR, and one bottle of it caused called hair restorers, none had any effect. her hair to grow out even more handsome AYER'S HAIR VIGOR did what nothing than before it began to fall. else could do, and now the lady again has a fine head of hair, thanks entirely to it. is 57 years of age, and her hair was quite gray, but one bottle of AYER'S HAIR

GEO. MAYER, Flatonia, Texas, presented an apparently hopeless case. Bald. VIGOR restored the color it bore in youth, ness was hereditary in his family. By and she now has "as fine a head of hair as the time he was 23 years old he had when she was but 16."

Bearcely any hair left. One bottle of Vincent Jones, Richmond, Ind., lost AYER'S HAIR VIGOR started a soft, all his hair in consequence of a severe atdowny growth all over his scalp, and in a tack of brain fever. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR few months his head was covered with brought out a new growth in a few weeks, soft, dark and abundant hair.

Medicinal Virtues.

The rare medicinal powers, emollient, stimulative and tonic, possessed by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR enable it to cure speedily Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Tetter-sores, glossy, and stimulates it to a rich and Dandruff, Humors of various kinds, and luxurious growth: it also keeps the scalp other diseases of the scalp liable to cause free from dandruff, and affords a perfect baldness. It is not a dye, contains no assurance against the hair falling out or coloring matter, and effects its rejuvena-tion of faded or gray hair simply by bring-clean or has such a delicate and delightful ing back the vigor of youth to the roots perfume. Without it the toilet cannot be and color glands of the hair.

The wife of Dr. V. S. LOVELACE, Ladies who have once made trial of Lovelace, Ky., had very bad Tetter Sores on her head. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR any other hair-dressing, and many of them cured them. The son of JAMES N. CARTER, Occoquan, Va., was cured of Scald-Head soll, Ont., who writes:
